COMPLAIN TO EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Board in Quandary Over School Budget

"What happens now?" That's the question that trustees of Penticton School District 15 are asking the department of education now that their $788,501 budget for 1958 has been rejected by Penticton city council.

The trustees at their regular meeting last night agreed to send the deputy minister of education a copy of city council's letter advising that the budget had not been accepted because it was not submitted to council by the March 15 statutory deadline and because "the portion of district assessment is out of all proportion to the government contribution."

Council's letter also includes a proposal that the city would agree to contribute an amount not in excess of what the 1957 school mill rate of 15.22 in Penticton would raise.

This would reduce the school budget by $27,694, it was determined last night, although the proposal would still mean an increase of roughly $30,000 in the city's contribution due to the fact that the school mill has increased about $2,000 in value since last year.

Amount proposed for Penticton would require a school tax of 16.64 mills this year.

SUPPLEMENTARY GRANT

A suggestion by P. F. Erant, school board chairman, that a supplementary provincial grant should be immediately applied for to make up the $27,694 rejected by the city was not accepted by the trustees.

"Why should we ask for something to please the city of Penticton?" asked Trustee G. Lake.

To which Mr. Erant replied that the application for supplementary grant would not be made to please the city but to attempt to get a square deal from the government for the whole district. He pointed out that the budget has increased by $74,098 from last year but proposed government contributions are up only $8,141 leaving the district saddled with $65,957 more than last year. The government proposes to contribute $417,774 this year leaving $370,724 for the district to pay of which $324,057 would be Penticton's share.

"That's not reasonable proportionately," Mr. Erant said. "It's not the amounts involved so much as the proportions. As long as we accept the government figure and don't complain we're never going to be any better off."

Other board members were not in favor of the supplementary grants idea, however, Trustee Phil Workman terming them "under-the-table deals."

Trustee E. A. Tyhurst moved that a copy of city council's letter be forwarded to the department immediately and the board ask for guidance on what to do next, pointing out that the budget could not be submitted to council before the March 15 deadline due to the government's delay in advising what it would pay. The late date now leaves no time for the usual machinery of arbitration on the budget.

Also to be pointed out is that since 1955 when the present educational cost sharing formula was introduced, district share of school costs had gone up $158,962 or 76 per cent while government contributions have increased by only $50,279 or 24 per cent.

The board's letter to the department will also "emphasize that the board has 'economized in every way possible in drawing up the budget and has not gone as overboard in any way, shape or form.'"

Meanwhile a letter from the B.C. School Trustees' Association office agreed to obtain information for the board on number and amounts of supplementary grants made to various school districts last year.

SOMETHING NEW IN HATS

New style safety hats are looked over by Frank White of Vancouver, program chairman for the Forest Products Safety Conference being held here today, tomorrow and Saturday. Models who will be taking part this afternoon in a safety hat show being put on by the Penticton and District Safety Council are, from left, Mrs. Shirley Lloyd, Mrs. Jo Selwood and Miss Bev Bond. Their hats have been designed to represent some of the chief hazards to safety.

Evacuation Starts In Alberta Area

EDMONTON (CP)—Four helicopters and two small planes today began evacuation, search and food-supply operations in the flood-stricken delta area of northeastern Alberta.

First concern was for 40 persons—including 14 children—trapped by floodwaters running three feet deep through a small lumber mill at the confluence of the Peace and Slave rivers, 375 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Two helicopters and a Beaver aircraft were to begin evacuating the lumber mill employees and their families to Embarras Portage, in the heart of the delta area. They were to be taken later to 120 miles south to McMurray where the Alberta government and the RCMP have set up a relief centre.

Another two 'copters were to continue searching the delta area. Sixteen families, mostly Metis, have been unreported along the banks of the Peace River, about 80 miles west of Embarras, and concern was expressed today for the safety of several muskrat trappers in the area.

The flooding, caused by river ice jams, extends over a wide area between the southwest end of Lake Athabasca and Lake Clair to the west.

Latest reports from the flood scene were that the river is continuing to rise. In view of the situation, it was felt it would be necessary to evacuate the men.

CRAFT CHARTERED

Three of the four helicopters being used are Associated Helicopters craft, two chartered by the provincial government and another by Swanson Lumber Co. The government also is using its new forestry branch 'copter.

The lumber company also is using its own Beaver in the evacuation operation, and Pacific Western Airlines is using one of its aircraft to ferry food from McMurray to the tiny delta settlement of Embarras, headquarters of the rescue operation. Later, the PWA plane will be used to fly the evacuees to McMurray.

A seventh plane—an RCMP craft—also is searching the upper Peace River for the 16 unreported families. Police said they are not too worried about the families, who probably moved to higher ground.

Hope Fades For Recovery Of Missile Cone

By BEN FUNK

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The U.S. Air Force virtually abandoned hope today of recovering the top-secret missile nose cone hurled across the Atlantic in an effort to solve the problem of re-entry from space.

"We have not recovered the nose cone and I doubt we will," Maj.-Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the air force ballistic missile division, told a congressional space committee in Washington.

Because some of the telemetering equipment aboard the Thor-Vanguard combination failed to function, the missile's course could not be followed as accurately as had been planned.

Essay Winners Receive Prizes

Prizes of $20 each were awarded to three Penticton Junior High School students at the Forest Products Safety Conference opening sessions in Hotel Prince Charles.

The three — Wayne Wiebe, grade seven; Stephen Pattison, grade eight; and Joanne Bennett, grade nine — were winners in a safety essay contest sponsored by the conference through the Interior Lumber Manufacturers Association office at Penticton.

Some 600 entries were received.

Egyptians Hold British Soldiers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Fifteen British soldiers are being held by Egyptian authorities near the Libyan frontier for alleged violation of territorial waters.

The soldiers include an officer and a sergeant.

The men were aboard two British army boats which also have been detained.

They were on a salvage mission to aid two ships of the same inland water transport squadron which had been beached in a storm on the Libyan coast near the Egyptian frontier.

In London, the war office noted that the coastal port for which the detained vessels were sailing, Bardia, is six miles from the Egyptian frontier.

The war office said the British foreign office is "taking up the matter" with Egyptian authorities through the Swiss Embassy in Cairo. Switzerland has looked after British interests in Cairo ever since Anglo-Egyptian relations were severed at the time of the British invasion of Port Said in 1956.

Sessions Closed on Skaha Water Talks

Skaha Lake Ratepayers closed the doors on press and radio reporters when they met with J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs, last night.

Leader of the ratepayers, John Horton, refused to comment on the meeting when asked this morning saying his executive had agreed not to release information until after the joint meeting with city council and Mr. Brown tonight.

The Herald learned, however, from authoritative sources, that the Skaha Ratepayers were extremely pleased with the results of their meeting.

No definite commitments were made, but it is understood that Mr. Brown favors the public utility system of getting water into the Skaha area.

Under the self-supporting waterworks plan, termed a public utilities scheme by the Skaha Lake Ratepayers, the waterworks revenue would be adjusted to meet all operating, maintenance and expansion costs.

There would be three sources of revenue:

1. Water rates paid by users would be adjusted to meet all operating and maintenance costs.
2. Connection fees would be raised to cover actual costs of making connections for new services. This would probably mean a boost from the present $40 fee to around $80, council members have stated.
3. A frontage tax would be levied on all property throughout the city that abuts water lines, to cover cost of expansion or debt service to retire loans for expansion projects.

Talent Show Planned at Oliver High

Oliver and District Arena Association will sponsor a local talent show May 9 in the High School Auditorium. Entry blanks are available now. The program will be broadcast over CKOK as a live broadcast.

It is intended to use the show as an audition to screen talent for a minstrel show to be produced in November. The Minstrel Show will be directed by Bill Sharpe and Gar McKinley. Bob Hitterman will collaborate on the music.

Prevention Work 'Not Good Enough'

Delegates attending the world's largest management safety conference in Penticton today were told by the principal speaker that the job done in accident prevention, and rehabilitation of injured workmen "is just not good enough."

The blunt statement came in the keynote address by Dr. J. R. Naden, of Vancouver, Chief Medical Officer, Workmen's Compensation Board of B.C.

He was addressing 161 forest products industry personnel and safety officers from companies in B.C., Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana and Arizona.

The conference, arranged by industrial concerns in the Pacific Northwest, was under chairmanship of George W. Norris, B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Vancouver.

Mayor Charles Oliver of Penticton extended a civic welcome. Dr. Naden said an excellent job was being done by industrial safety directors but they had not yet succeeded in "selling" to workmen and managements the fact that safety was of such tremendous importance.

The speaker reviewed accidents in the forest products industry during a typical two-weeks' period in 1957.

He pointed out things that could be done to prevent such accidents. The fact that accidents re-occurred emphasized the need of vigorous accident prevention campaigns.

Allies Ask Reds For Speed Up in Diplomatic Talks

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three asked the Soviet Union today to speed up diplomatic talks leading to a summit meeting.

They said in a joint note they want their ambassadors in Moscow to meet in a group with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to make faster progress. Gromyko has been meeting the ambassadors separately but has not sat down with all three at the same time.

British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd assailed this procedure in the House of Commons Wednesday as a waste of time.

The note from Britain, the United States and France was cleared in advance with the other partners in the Atlantic alliance. It was handed personally to Gromyko in Moscow by the three ambassadors, Llewellyn Thompson of the United States, Sir Patrick Devlin of Britain and Maurice Dejean of France.

The note said the three Western powers believe joint meetings would permit more rapid progress and expressed the hope that the Soviet Union would agree to the procedure.

The note said it is not necessary in the preparatory work to reach decisions but to discuss the possibilities of agreement. It added that ambassadorial meetings should have as their object the exploration of an agenda for summit talks and a time and place for that meeting.

Dr. Naden Elaborates on the Conference Theme: 'More Safety Today — a Prosperous Tomorrow'

Safety benefitted workmen and their families, employers and the community.

If there had been more emphasis on industrial safety years ago there would be fewer families today with a disabled breadwinner.

"Our aim is that we must do better," Dr. Naden said. "If, along with safety prevention, we stressed the rehabilitation of workmen to a greater degree it would be to the betterment of all."

Dr. Naden urged greater cooperation between workers, unions, doctors, managements and the various compensation boards and commissioners.

GAS GUN TO FIRE SATELLITE?

Brig. G. A. G. Waldo, chief superintendent of CARDE, says there are no plans to launch a satellite this year. But reports still persist the launching will take place at Fort Churchill.

Dr. Gerry V. Bull, superintendent of the Canadian Armament Research and Development aerophysics wing at Valcartier, Que., stands beside the oxygen-hydrogen gun which may be used to project the Canadian satellite into space after the U.S. developed Redstone missile has burned out as the first-stage carrier.

LIGHTER SIDE

DUBLIN (Reuters)—The government bowed to the fairies Wednesday night.

Lands Minister Erskine Childers decided to "bend" a fence so it skirts a plot of land in County Mayo believed to be occupied by the "little people," reliable sources said.

A crisis erupted when 20 government employees defied dismissal threats in refusing to follow the original plan for a fence smack through leprechaun-tenanted ground in the hamlet of Belmulet. The frightened workmen said the "good people" might take offence and do things to them they might "not be able to understand" if the fence was put through the "fairy palace" as planned.

U.S. Seeks Tariff Hike On Lead, Zinc Imports

By GEORGE KITCHEN

CANADIAN PRESS Staff Writer WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States tariff commission today recommended tariff increases on imports of lead and zinc on the ground incoming shipments are causing serious injury to the U.S. lead and zinc industry.

At the same time, the six-man commission split 3 votes to 3 on the question of quotas for lead imports, which come from Canada. Three members favored quotas that would cut imports by as much as 50 per cent. The other three were opposed.

Nor could the commission agree on the amount of increase in duties.

Three recommended a duty of 1.45 cents a pound on lead-bearing ores and 2.5 cents on zinc blocks, pigs or slabs. They also favored an annual quota of 221,700 short tons on unmanufactured lead and 325,600 short tons on unmanufactured zinc.

The other three commissioners recommended tariffs of 1 1/2 cents a pound on lead-bearing ores, 2 1/2

Boy Kills Self After Scolding

DUNCAN (CP)—Reprimanded for going swimming too early in the season, 12-year-old Earl Joseph Swirsky of Mesachie Lake left his home, packing a haversack and food.

At his home he left a note, written on a scrap of paper, reading: "Please forgive me, but I am no good, I love you both. Goodbye, Joe."

This was on April 12. The next day his body was found in the bush near his home, a bullet wound over his heart. A rifle was between the boy's knees.

At the inquest Wednesday Cpl. James Band of the RCMP told the jury he believed the boy died of self-inflicted wounds. There were powder burns on the lad's shirt and around the wound.

Cpl. Band admitted, however, in answering questions of jurors, that the boy could have fallen asleep, leaning on the muzzle of the gun, discharging it.

But, he said, it was more possible that the boy had taken his own life.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

The victim of the shooting was the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ashton of Mesachie Lake.

WINNIPEG (CP)—George Schollie of Montreal, one of Quebec's three vice-presidents of the Canadian Labor Congress, will not run for re-election in Tuesday's elections at the CLC's convention, it was learned today.

Claims Farmers Unlikely to Back Political Group

WINNIPEG (CP)—James Patterson, chairman of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, said Wednesday night he questioned whether farmers would support the new political movement planned by the Canadian Labor Congress.

"In the light of past experience, I just can't see farmers entering into any agreement with any political party, even one that they are supposed to help form," he said in an interview.

"We have always been non-partisan in politics, and this is a matter of little pride to most farmers. There is absolutely no possibility whatever that we could even think of such a scheme as helping form a political party for a very long time to come."

Mr. Patterson, also president of the Manitoba Farmers' Union, said he could not speak for all farmers but was commenting on his own experience.

However, there appeared to be some encouragement for the Canadian position in the fact that the commission was split—rather than unanimous—in its recommendation. A split gives the president greater political latitude in reaching a decision.

The commission members also disagreed on how the increased rates should apply. The Republicans recommended higher duties than the three Democrats.

The effect of the commission's report, product of a long study of the depressed domestic industry, is to leave the final decision up to President Eisenhower, who under American law has 60 days in which to accept the commission's recommendations, reject them, modify them or ask for a further study.

CANADA MAY PROTEST

The recommendations are almost certain to invite a diplomatic protest from Canada, which warned the U.S. last year that increased duties would force the Canadian government to "consider making appropriate compensatory adjustments with a view to restoring the balance of our trade agreement."

The recommended quotas would not apply to lead or zinc imported for government stockpiles or to duty-free imports brought in for export after being smelted and refined.

Canadian officials here expressed concern about the recommendation.

However, there appeared to be some encouragement for the Canadian position in the fact that the commission was split—rather than unanimous—in its recommendation. A split gives the president greater political latitude in reaching a decision.

99 in City ELEGIBLE For Blue Book Listing

MONTREAL—Only 99 persons in Penticton are eligible to become members of the Social Register of Canada.

Who they are is not disclosed by the Social Register which maintains the same aldoress as other social blue books in other countries.

Eligibility for membership in the Register is decided by its advisors, explained Peter N. Dawes, well-known member of Montreal society and president, Social Register of Canada Limited.

The advisors are anonymous but are recognized as unquestioned arbiters of the coveted membership in Canada's first published guide to social leadership, he said.

When the advisors nominate persons to membership each nominee is asked for biographical material on himself and his family. This will be included in the Social Register the first issue of which will be published this fall. Special significance is attached to this edition as it has been proposed that a uniquely bound copy be presented to Her Majesty the Queen.

When the Social Register recently announced that its editorial offices were being moved from Toronto to Montreal, "because there are more older families and fewer nouveaux riches in Quebec than in Ontario," many Torontonians became irate. One Toronto newspaper headlined the story, "Blue Book Switch Boils Blue Blood."

Asked today if there is any danger of the Register's advisors overlooking eligible Canadians, Mr. Dawes admitted that such accidents have occurred. "What follows is that Canadians who believe they should be admitted to membership write or phone us and their names are then passed on by our advisors," he said.

For this reason, he added, it is quite possible that more than 99 citizens of Penticton should be in the Social Register.

Membership Drive For Concerts Group

SUMMERLAND — George Zukerman, executive director of Overture Concerts of Canada, was here Monday for the kickoff meeting in the high school music room as the campaign for membership in the Summerland Overture Concerts' Association got underway. The drive continues all this week.

Mrs. Muriel Foulkes, field representative is also at the office which has been opened in Fashionwise Shop at West Summerland. She will stay until Saturday night.

Mrs. Ewart Woolliams is in charge of the membership drive. Between 30 and 40 canvassers were at the meeting and are covering the whole community to obtain adult members. Anne Emery and Ann Turbayne, high school students, are selling student tickets.

Emphasis will be on student members since they comprise future audiences, and through them concert habits are established. It is thought that there will be three concerts in the Summerland series. Price for adults is $5.50 and for students $2.75 for the season.

15 Cats Picked Up in March

Fifteen stray cats were picked up by E. Berg, local SPCA inspector during March, the Penticton branch of the B.C. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals learned in the inspector's monthly report.

Fourteen of the animals picked up were destroyed and one was given a new home.

The inspector also responded to the rescue of two cats stranded atop power poles and picked up one bird.

Another cat was taken to hospital and later returned to the owner.

A post mortem was conducted on two dogs suspected of being either poisoned or killed by a hit-and-run driver. Another injured dog was picked up and advertisements placed to find the owner. There being no response the dog was finally destroyed.

An injured skunk was also destroyed and several calls about lost dogs and cats were received as were calls for dogs and other animals wanted.

Mr. Berg will be the local branch's official delegate to the annual meeting of the SPCA in Vancouver April 25 and 26. He will also attend a special session of instruction for all inspectors in B.C.

The meeting agreed to send a letter of congratulations to David Pugh, new member of Parliament for Okanagan-Boundary.

Another letter will go to the local Red Cross branch expressing appreciation for recent work.

Argue to Lead CCF Group in Commons

By STAN McCABE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
WINNIPEG (CP)—The only opposition spokesman from Canada's wheat belt was elected Wednesday as the leader of the eight-man CCF group in the House of Commons.

Hazen Argue, 37-year-old farmer and the only non-Conservative from the Prairie provinces in the next Parliament, came out of the small party caucus that elected him talking fight.

"We have already filed a number of resolutions and bills to be presented at the coming session of Parliament," he said. "They are in line with some of the decisions of the Canadian Labor Congress and with the ideals of the CCF party."

"I assure you that every day Parliament is in session you will hear from CCF members, just as you did in other parliaments."

FISHER NAMED CHAIRMAN

Mr. Argue, an outspoken Canadian of Irish descent, was brought up in wheat-growing Saskatchewan. Only 24 when he was first elected to the Commons in 1945, he now is 37.

Douglas Fisher, the "giant-killer" who defeated former trade minister Hove in Port Arthur in the 1957 election, was named chairman of the CCF caucus and Erhart Regier, member for Burnaby-Coquitlam in British Columbia since 1953, was named secretary-treasurer.

The new House leader said the group will meet again in Ottawa just before the May 12 opening of Parliament to fill such offices as defence critic and military critic.

Two big items on the CCF program will be to seek a bill of rights to protect fundamental freedoms and aid from the federal government to the provinces for education without interfering with provincial rights, he said.

Husky, curly-haired Mr. Argue, whose appearance and ringing voice will be in sharp contrast to the softly-voiced argument of national leader M. J. Coldwell omitted who was in the House, gave some idea of how he will operate in the coming Parliament.

DEPEND ON OTHERS

"Being the only opposition member from the Prairie provinces I can hardly ask anyone else to handle issues that are affecting the Prairie provinces only," said the farmer member. "But on such broader agricultural issues such as livestock, prices and so on, I can get able assistance from such members as H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West), W. A. Peters (CCF—Temiskaming), and M. J. Martin (CCF—Timmins)."

Mr. Argue was asked about reports that the Conservative government might try to limit recognition to an Opposition, rather than the "one, two, three" opposition parties as represented in the past by the Conservatives or the Liberals, the CCF and Social Credit.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that the prime minister intends to use his tremendous parliamentary majority to stifle any opposition group or to curtail any of the rights and privileges the CCF group has established over the last 25 years."

"If any such move is made the CCF, believing in Canadian and parliamentary freedom, will vigorously and strenuously oppose it."

Mr. Argue said that his election was no indication that he had the inside track on the national leadership, to be decided at a party convention in Montreal later this year. He was just the House leader.

Famed 'Macs' Come Out of Winter Sleep

KELOWNA (CP)—Rip van Winkle McIntosh has come out of his long winter sleep.

He is an apple, one of British Columbia's famed "Macs," who started his winter rest last October.

The apples were "put to sleep" last fall in a new kind of storage—controlled atmosphere or gas storage.

Now they have been awakened and are on the way to market, at their flavorful, tree-ripe best.

Controlled atmosphere storage is a new development in the B.C. industry.

It is a method of slowing down the natural maturity process of nature by controlling the amount of carbon-dioxide in the air in which the apples are stored.

Under normal cold storage McIntosh apples cannot be held economically longer than six months. With controlled atmosphere, the time can be stretched to 10 months.

Borden Asks Coast Paper For Correction

VICTORIA (CP)—Henry Borden, chairman of the royal commission on energy, said Wednesday the commission has asked the Vancouver Province to correct an "erroneous impression" created by an editorial which appeared in the newspaper Tuesday.

T. G. Norris, counsel for West-coast Transmission Co., said before the commission Tuesday that the editorial was libellous and in contempt of the commission. He asked Mr. Borden to take steps to protect witnesses and the integrity of the commission.

Gun Salutes Mark Israel's 10th Anniversary

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israelis danced in the streets until dawn today to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Jewish state.

The festive celebrations today of Israel's first decade included a military parade through Jerusalem for which troops and armor had been brought into the city. Israeli officials apparently planned to ignore Jordan's protests that the concentration of military equipment violated the 1949 armistice dividing the city between Israel and Jordan.

The birthday party was touched off by a 10-gun salute broadcast by the 8,050-square-mile country. It was the signal for fireworks displays and street dancing by many of the almost 2,000,000 population.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT
Loudspeakers carried polkas to the crowds in Jerusalem. In Tel Aviv more than 1,500 entertainers gave free variety shows at six stages erected in main streets.

Some 10,000 tourists were in the crowds that packed Tel Aviv for a large fireworks display. Cabinet ministers, rabbis, diplomats and guests joined in the holiday spirit.

Almost every house in Tel Aviv was decorated with flags and bunting. Huge murals of Bible scenes and heroes hung across the main streets.

Under a clear, starry sky in the early morning, many campfires were lit in Tel Aviv parks and roast potatoes with black coffee were passed around.

Chairman Hartley Haynes expressed himself as being dissatisfied with the progress the executive were making and offered to resign.

He was answered by Jack White who pointed out that the response to date has been very encouraging with the businesses that have been approached pledging 100 per cent and a satisfying number of membership tickets had been sold. Approximately ten thousand dollars is already available in cash or pledges.

Son of Summerland Pioneers to Spend 2 Years in Brazil

Kenneth G. Walter of Portland, son of a pioneer Summerland family, is leaving to spend two years in Brazil, studying architecture. His wife will accompany him.

A graduate of the State of Oregon university, Kenneth has been employed as an architect in Portland for the past few years. He is the son of the late Willis E. Walter and grandson of the late C. A. Walter, both of whom oldtimers of the Summerland area will remember.

Kenneth's sisters, Mrs. Don Tait and Mrs. Percy Wilson, reside in Summerland.

PROMENADE

By D.G.

The Youth Centre at Summerland was the scene of a most enjoyable square dance party last Saturday night. Harold Burden, who was to have been emcee, was confined to his home with the flu, so the emceeing was shared by the other Summerland callers.

This Saturday, April 26, the Peach City Promenaders are sponsoring a special party in honor of Dr. Bob and Eddie Parmley, who are leaving to make their home in Vancouver in the near future. This party is not restricted to Peach City Promenaders, and it is hoped that all their square dancing friends both in Penitence and other valley points will join in wishing them bon voyage and the best of luck in their new venture. A buffet supper will be served, so just come and have fun with us. Time: 8:00 p.m., place: Masonic hall.

Other party nights on the same date are one at Oliver and another at Peachland, this being the fourth Saturday in the month, which is the regular party date for both of these points. And don't forget that tonight, Thursday, April 24, is Les Boyer's regular round dance class at the Sun "A" which would like to see a good turnout.

Local Student Top In B.C. Contest

Dennis Sjerpe, a grade 12 student at Penitence Junior-Senior High School, has won first place for B.C. in an international mathematics contest.

Penitence High School as a group, came third in the overall competition among the 48 B.C. schools participating.

"This board can be proud of the fact that a Penitence pupil was placed first in the contest," E. E. Hyndman, school inspector, told Penitence School Trustees last night. "It is no small achievement for Dennis Sjerpe to rank first in this province in competition with the most able pupils in their last year of high school."

Commenting on the fact that Penitence High School came third in the contest Mr. Hyndman said: "Surely this is another indication of the high level of achievement in Penitence."

The contest is sponsored jointly by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Actuaries. In B.C. arrangements are handled by the University of B.C.

Although Penitence High School as a group has come second and third in the B.C. section of the contest before, this is the first time that a student from the school has come first.

CITY WOMAN WINS B.C. CRIBbage TOURNAMENT

Penitence's Mrs. Ted Reed won the B.C. Cribbage Championship for the blind yesterday defeating Mrs. J. Matthews of New Westminster in the final game. Earlier Mrs. Reed defeated Mrs. Burham of Victoria.

Next opponent for Mrs. Reed will be from Alberta with inter-provincial playoffs scheduled for Saturday of this week. Mrs. Reed was due to leave Vancouver last night for the Alberta city.

Three Teachers Resign; One Appointed; Water Rates Up

Resignations of three elementary school teachers from the District 15 staff were accepted with regret by the school trustees last night.

The resignations, effective June 30, were from Nan Cambray and Marilyn B. Lyons, Jermyn Avenue Elementary School, and Judith E. Hague, Penitence Primary School.

Application of Mrs. Eva Cobbett, presently teaching primary grades at Oliver, to the District 15 staff for the next term, was accepted. Mrs. Cobbett has 10 years of teaching experience.

In other school board business the trustees agreed to ask H. D. Fritchard, high school principal, to attend a principals' conference at UBC, July 14-15.

The board was advised that Miss B. Rogers, provincial director of home nursing, will pay her annual visit to this area May 7 and 16.

Placing of the usual $20 advertisement in the high school annual was approved.

The board noted that water rates in the Kaleden Irrigation District have gone up from around $36 to $55 per year less 10 per cent discount.

A suggestion from Okanagan Valley School Employees' Union, No. 323 that there be a master wage agreement for all valley school districts, found general favor with the board. However, E. F. Bennett, secretary-treasurer, was asked to obtain information on how the present wage scales compare throughout the valley.

Penitence Junior-Senior High School request for use of school grounds and one classroom for the safe driving course some time in the latter part of May, was granted.

Tenders Called for West Bench Additions

Tenders have now been called for construction of a two-classroom addition and activity room at the West Bench Elementary School.

At the semi-monthly meeting of the board of trustees of School District 15, last night, it was disclosed that the tenders will be opened at a special meeting May 3.

The trustees gave approval in principle to a request from E. C. Tennant, and Frank Laird of the Civil Defence organization, for use of school facilities at Penitence, West Bench and Kaleden for a series of Civil Defence classes next month.

Betts Electric, lowest of two bidders for wiring for the sound system at the new Green Avenue School, will get the contract at a price of $426, it was decided. Westeel Products Ltd., lowest tenderer of six firms for supplying of lockers for the school, will be awarded this contract. Prices quoted were $2,653.91 for 123 18-inch lockers and $2,331.50 for the 15-inch width.

FESTIVAL GRATIFYING

E. E. Hyndman, school inspector, expressed deep satisfaction with the Okanagan Music Festival arrangements and the showing of district students in it. Noting that actual achievement of local competitors was "outstanding," he said the competitive aspect was minimized to some extent and actual emphasis placed on participation. It was therefore pleasing to note that far more choral singing and choral reading classes were entered than ever before.

"It is obvious that the more who participated, the more actually gained from the festival," he said. "The whole purpose of this effort was to provide the best criticism and instruction for our teachers and pupils that can be obtained anywhere."

Board members agreed that the adjudication at the festival was top-notch. "The two British adjudicators are world famous and the cost of bringing these men to such a community as ours would be prohibitive under any other circumstances," Mr. Hyndman observed.

He paid hearty tribute to teachers, board members and school district maintenance staff for "whole-hearted co-operation" during the festival.

ROBERT RUDIE, VIOLINIST

Unique Ensemble To Entertain Here

Robert Rudie, brilliant American violinist, will appear on the stage of Penitence High School auditorium Tuesday night, as conductor and soloist with the Rudie Sinfonietta, a unique ensemble of vocal and instrumental soloists, in a program of unusual variety.

Appearing under auspices of the South Okanagan Community Concert Association, the Rudie Sinfonietta features eleven instrumentalists. Soloists along with Mr. Rudie, will be Phyllis Williams, soprano; Robert Kirkham, baritone; and Cynthia Otis, harpist.

Mr. Rudie is a witty raconteur as well as an outstanding violin virtuoso and will provide the commentary during the program.

Phyllis Williams has sung at the Salzburg Festival and in the historic opera house at Linz, Austria. She studied at the Mozarteum in Salzburg on a Fulbright Scholarship.

Robert Kirkham's resonant baritone voice has highlighted many performances of opera, light opera and oratorio. He has also drawn high praise as soloist with symphony orchestras and on radio and TV.

Harpist Cynthia Otis also has a long list of successes in solo concerts, with major symphony orchestras, and on coast-to-coast broadcasts since her youthful debut at the age of 16 with the New York Philharmonic on its "Young People" series. Her technical and artistic have gained her a reputation as an interpreter of sensitivity and forcefulness.

The Panhandle Issue Again

In the Financial Post recently, Mr. J. B. McGeachy suggested that Canada should acquire the Alaska Panhandle and that the Americans living there might be better off if this happened. The Alaskan reply, as voiced by the Anchorage Times, was that the U.S. should make a deal for Western British Columbia, to link Alaska with the states among which it aspires to rank as 50th. In more serious vein, Alaska's former governor, Mr. Ernest Gruening, concedes that Canada should have a corridor to the Pacific on the 500-mile Panhandle coastline, but suggests the price might be water power rights on the Yukon.

The development of Northern B.C. and the Yukon makes it increasingly desirable that Canada acquire sites for deep water ports at least at the mouths of the Taku and Stikine Rivers. Shipment in bond works fairly well from Skagway into the Yukon by rail, but it has disadvantages. Not so long ago

American labor troubles interfered with traffic to Whitehorse. If the U.S. cannot constitutionally sell any of its soil, as some claim, it might cede the few square miles needed by this country—and do so before Alaska becomes a state. Canada would, of course, have to make a concession in return—territory, water power or electricity.

U.S. possession of the Panhandle results from its purchase of Alaska from Russia in 1867. An Anglo-Russian treaty was interpreted by an arbitration panel in such a way that the Panhandle border cut Canada off from deep water, Britain at the time had urgent reasons for conciliating the Americans—and President Theodore Roosevelt was "shaking the big stick."

But fair-minded Americans today can surely see the injustice of that settlement and the need for ratification. Canada should draw the matter to their attention again and keep it there until it is settled.

ILLUSTRATION FOR THE GORDON REPORT

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ill-Considered Word-Juggling

Your leading editorial of April 17, 1958, is one of the most ill-considered editorial comments we have yet seen in your or any other newspaper. The manner in which you divert charges of monopolistic practices from the proper culprits to organized labor is one of the most hypocritical examples of word-juggling and condemnation by innuendo that we have recently seen. In your editorial you are evidently saddling all blame for high prices upon labor. We would like to point out that many of the large corporations reported the greatest profits during 1957 of any year of their existence. When it is remembered that 1957 was a year of shrinking employment and increasing unemployment rolls, this in itself should be indicative of where the high prices are originating.

Dealing with the particular industry mentioned in your editorial, presumably because it is the poor baby of this locality, we wish to point out to you that the wage rates in this industry are anywhere from 25% to 30% lower than the average unskilled labor rates for the same area. At the same time, employees are required to work nine hours per day at straight time and fifty-four hours per week in the said fruit industry. This is a direct subsidization of the fruit industry by labor in two different ways: (1) By low wages, and (2) By hours of work such as were visited upon their grandfathers.

On February 1, 1958, the Financial Post published what is considered to be a minimum budget for a family of four persons (man, wife, and two children) which is the average Canadian family. According to their figure, $4,424.00 are required for a minimum standard of living for the average city family. This is an average for the whole of Canada, and since B.C. is admittedly in the higher-priced bracket so far as Canada is concerned, it is equally interesting to note that the average male packinghouse worker, if he works a full year of fifty-two weeks of forty-eight hours per week average, would earn only $3,244.90—$1,179.20 below the Financial Post's figure for a minimum family budget. We think that before labor is hung into the picture in the manner that you have used in this editorial that some serious consideration should be given to the factual picture of average income in this area, which is noted for having a six months per year working season, i.e., the average wage-earner in this area is very fortunate indeed if he is able to work much more than six months during the year. When the above Financial Post figures are related to this, the picture is even blacker.

In closing, we might say that we recognize the fact that the grower is not receiving proper reimbursement for his capital and effort, and we believe that subsidization is possibly the answer. However, we wish to point out to you that it is grossly unfair to attempt to saddle the blame for this situation upon labor, and particularly so when the picture of the labor directly concerned is as noted above.

Thank you for your kind consideration.

Yours very truly,
"A. L. KANESTER"
"MURDO MACKENZIE"

Sir: Why is only Mr. Horton's voice heard, on the air and in the paper, with his demands and statements and threats? By default it seems he is the only one who is "right" in this squabbling. FOSTER HEWITT ON THE VEES
Sir:—
I wonder how many Pentictonites heard Foster Hewitt speaking on CBC last Tuesday night on the series of interviews with him on "Assignment."

He was asked in the second interview, which of his many varied broadcasts in his long broadcasting career gave him his biggest thrill. His answer: "The game the Penticton Vees played against Russia." And he went on telling of the immense emotional build-up this game had over there, of its scope of international influence it had, of the tremendous thrill it was.

For a Pentictonite, and one who had the privilege and great thrill to live through those wonderful Penticton-days of the world-championship and the home-coming of the Vees, it was a sudden and totally unexpected pleasure to hear that great game of the Vees mentioned on the CBC, in a broadcast covering all its stations.

Enough of a pleasure to tell all those of it who may not have heard it.

OTTAWA REPORT

Diefenbaker New World Leader?

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Special Correspondent to the Herald

OTTAWA — "In John Diefenbaker, the man with a burning faith in Canada, lies the potential to lead not only his own country, but the whole Commonwealth."

Thus speaks one of the world's most widely-read newspapers, the British "Daily Express," published by one of the most widely-known living Canadians, Lord Beaverbrook.

Comments on our general election and its aftermath have been more widespread abroad than ever before. Many commentators, like the "Daily Express," have speculated that our newly-strengthened Prime Minister has it within his grasp to emerge a moral leader of the Commonwealth, or even the Western World.

Americans make the painful admission that their statesmen have lost the initiative after a bare decade of leadership in the Free World. That job, even more than the presidency of the United States, calls for more than rounds of inactivity punctuated by holes of golf. So, realistic Americans as well as Atlanticists now recognize Canada's Prime Minister as possibly the man with the vision to blueprint a successful policy for the West, the sincerity to inspire the West, and the courage to trade frank words with the Russians.

"THE CHIEF" TO OTHERS TOO
Last week a prominent Canadian-born member of the British Parliament, visiting Ottawa, described a recent dinner party to which he had been invited by Britain's Prime Minister, Mr. Harold Macmillan. The talk at that distinguished gathering touched upon the immense problems confronting the Western World today; inflation, over-taxation, Russia's scientific progress, Russia's trade drive, Eisenhower's ill-health, and the spread of communism through the former empires of Asia and Africa.

One politician earnestly declared that only the Commonwealth can give the lead which the non-communist world now lacks, and that we will need a great Commonwealth statesman like General Smuts for that urgent task. The soft, confident voice of Britain's Prime Minister broke in. "Gentlemen, I think you will find that the Commonwealth already has such a statesman, and his name is Diefenbaker." While such great expectations overseas centre on Mr. Diefenbaker, here at home there will be great anxiety to see whether he possesses the statesmanship to overcome domestic problems. To most voters his paramount tasks must be to restore our fractured prosperity and to re-Canadianise our national economy.

NO TIME TO THINK
As a first step in the wider field, Mr. Diefenbaker may decide to familiarize himself with our sister-nations at an early date, by making a world-girdling tour of all the Commonwealth countries, after the coming parliamentary session.

In his first months as Prime Minister, Mr. Diefenbaker may be threatened by the smothering mass of daily routine administration; but this must not consume his attentions to the point where he has no time to formulate the policies which we all need now.

He will no doubt take care to avoid the trap of detail work, which Liberal strategist J. W. Pickersgill recently confessed to have caused the downfall of the Liberal government. "We never gave ourselves time to think, nor to produce a single new idea," Mr. Diefenbaker may appoint a deputy prime minister, or an assistant with some other title, to handle the administrative routine which should not be permitted to deprive a prime minister of time for policy-making. He may see the need to group a hard core of selected and trusted political advisers around him, preferably all within the Cabinet, to develop new policies while a minimum of departmental routine absorbs their working days. These would be politicians of the calibre of Senator W. R. Brun, Transport Minister George Heen, David Walker, M.P., together with his Quebec lieutenant and an obvious key minister.

Mr. Pickersgill's diagnosis was a very shrewd one. Mr. Diefenbaker is the man way out in front today; and out in front with him he needs confidants, not a secretary with an "In" tray.

David Sarnoff, whose name is synonymous with RCA, has honorary doctorates in science, in literature, in commerce, in laws and humanities. He has other diplomas galore. But he never finished school. A few days ago he was invited back to New York's Stuyvesant High which the young immigrant boy was forced to quit to go to work at 14. Now he has the one big diploma missing from his collection: honorary high school graduate. And we feel pretty sure it would be hard to find anyone willing to take up our bet as to which diploma he treasures most today.

SAVINGS EROSION
(Victoria Times)
Neither Canadians nor foreigners will long continue to invest sufficiently in fixed investments, such as government bonds, corporate debentures and life insurance if their savings are to be continually eroded by inflation. That is one of the reasons, though by no means the only one, why the Bank of Canada has been struggling against inflation, sometimes by unpopular policies.

Such Charges Do Not Help

A prominent Canadian union official, in the course of a recent speech, had some harsh words for the press and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

The C.M.A. was accused of "using newspapers and radio stations which it owns" to advocate that unions be made legally accountable for their actions.

The charge, need it be said, is quite baseless. Demonstrably so, since the C.M.A. neither owns nor controls a single newspaper or radio station in Canada or anywhere else. Nor does it aspire to do so.

Neither has it ever thought of any section of the press or radio network as its creature. It has more respect for those who disseminate news in Canada than to believe that they would allow themselves to be "used" by any group, unions included. But the press, presumably, is quite capable of defending itself.

As for the C.M.A., it has not sought to capitalize on recent exposures of graft and corruption in certain unions with branches in Canada. It has not said—and does not say—that all unions are therefore corrupt. But it is concerned that unions, corrupt or clean, shall be called to account whenever and wherever they break the laws, in exactly the same way as any other person or body of persons.

In this, as in other matters, it believes itself to be serving not only the interests of its member companies, but those of all Canadians, not least those who work in manufacturing industry—both organized and unorganized.

School for the Handicapped

The 29 property owners waiving protest to the building of a school for retarded children near their property are to be complimented. Not that we expected any less, but it is gratifying to know that in that corner of Penticton at least there is understanding of the retarded.

It is not always so. Many people still regard the retarded child as something to be shunned. Even parents of these unfortunate members of our society sometimes tend to hide their problems refusing to admit their child's deficiency. It is not a pleasant problem to face, but face it we must.

In Canada in 1958 some 13,000 defective children will be born. Nothing can be done to reduce this figure at the present time. Congenital defect in the brain before birth, or injury to the brain through illness or accident, bring this sorrow among us. All that we can do is try to make ourselves as helpful and gentle as possible. The people living close to Kiwanis Park have done this with their acceptance of the proposed school.

One writer has said the pioneering efforts of those seeking to help the retarded face "many trials in an almost uncharted wilderness... a wilderness populated by the confused, sometimes fearful, often rebuffed children who know themselves a people apart."

We have heard that the local Kiwanis Club is considering sponsoring a drive to raise funds for the new school. We hope this is true for with proper facilities much can be done.

Mentally retarded children rarely pass beyond the mental age of a 12-year-old. This means they live their lives at an age when love and affection mean so much. When the companionship of others of similar age makes the difference between happiness and despair.

The classrooms and workshops of a properly equipped school for such handicapped children will bring great pride to our community.

You May Learn a Lot Watching Child at Play

By HERMAN N. BUNDEREN, M. D.
That game of "Cops and Robbers" or "Cowboys and Indians" your youngster enjoys playing may mean a lot more to him than merely a way of enjoying himself and expending some of that boundless energy of childhood.

It might have deep psychological significance in his development as a normal, happily-adjusted person.

Most HAVE FEARS
Almost all children have fears of one kind or another. Fear of darkness, of being hurt, of new situations, of strangers, even fear of being separated from their parents, are fairly common among children.

We doctors know that very often youngsters resort to games to play out their usual fears. In acting them out during a game, children may begin to feel more secure, more adequate. They learn to subdue the forces which "threaten" them.

Very often parents unintentionally instill their own fears in their young children. If a mother is frightened by thunder and lightning, for example, her children may be afraid of them, too.

Watch your youngster at play with other children and alone. It is a valuable means of expression for him and you may learn a great deal about his emotions. Very often parents unintentionally instill their own fears in their young children. If a mother is frightened by thunder and lightning, for example, her children may be afraid of them, too.

Sometimes these fears appear in disguised forms. A child may be too obedient or too clean—it's possible—not because he wants to behave in a mature manner, but because he fears his parents will reject him if he doesn't.

Play, as I have explained, is important to a child's development. But some children decline to play with other kids in fear of displeasing their parents. They simply have been warned too often of the hazards of certain types of play.

REDTIME RITUALS
Children sometimes express fears by demanding that certain bedtime rituals be performed in precisely the same manner each night.

Perhaps a youngster wants to take a particular blanket or teddy bear to bed. Or maybe he will insist that the door to his room be left ajar.

It's a good idea to grant these requests. Going to bed at night is a much more complete surrender of the family than any daytime activities. His blanket and teddy bear are reassuring symbols which he needs for comfort.

British First Supporters of Fair

Of special significance in this centennial year is the fact that Great Britain was the first to lend support to the International Trade Fair being held in Vancouver May 1-10.

One hundred years since the Colony of British Columbia was founded one of her most ardent supporters remains the nation that brought B.C. into being.

The United Kingdom display will carry some 200 exhibits ranging from carpets to the finest of glass work.

Typical of the quality of the glassware to be seen will be wine decanters and glasses made at Stourbridge, Worcestershire. First designed, and first produced, in 1808, the glassware is of the most delicate kind.

We welcome the British display to the province and sincerely hope that in 2058 our children's children make the sons of Britain equally welcome.

DISPLAY OF COTTONS

B.P. Women's Club Sponsors Successful Fashion Parade

Cotton fabrics that are winning fashion's favor this season were styled into the smart and attractive costumes displayed before an audience of more than 250 at the "Blossom Time is Cotton Time" show in the Legion auditorium Tuesday evening. The style feature was presented under the sponsorship of the Penticton Business and Professional Women's Club with fashions from Le Anders.

The flattering and exciting costumes shown by a bevy of smart models centred around the chemise and the various interpretations of this new member of the fashion world. Some designs stressed the two-piece costume with the hip-hugging belt, others the ever-popular flaring skirt and some, the slim skirt with back interest and modern version of the "hobble skirt."

The show opened with the appearance of Mrs. Leland Faebish in white stag sail cloth "clam-diggers" accented with a nautical trim of navy and white. A sun dress of green and white print with full flaring skirt was attractively worn by blond Mrs. Marty Hill in the sportswear section of the pleasing show. Equally smart was Mrs. Ivy Baston in a poplin golf jacket and matching skirt of mint green. A display of bathing suits by teenagers, Joanne Hill and Maureen Darters, provided additional interest to this portion of the style parade.

A shirtwaist dress of blue and white stripes was smartly displayed by Mrs. Martin Kopas, stressing the attractive costume suitable for street wear by the more mature figure. Mrs. R. W. Israel was charming in another dress suitable for shopping, a black and white check with unpressed pleats. With this dress she wore a smart white Breton sailor jauntily placed well back on her dark hair.

A lace trimmed sheath dress of turquoise was topped with a slim jacket to make the attractive outfit paraded by slender Mrs. G. Don MacGregor. Another exciting afternoon ensemble was displayed by Mrs. H. S. Parker, who wore a coral colored linen-cotton sheath and a jacket trimmed with the fashionable polka dots.

Miss Diane Gibson appeared in another rose slim 'fin and bra costume displaying one of the season's favorites for the teenager. Closing the fashion presentation was the lovely bride, Miss Gibson, in her all-white cotton lace and net gown and her lovely attendants, Mrs. Faebish and Miss Lunn, wearing turquoise lace frocks with very full skirts and carrying pale yellow nosegays.

A short intermission featured a presentation of lovely authentic heirloom costumes worn by Miss Betty Kendall, Mrs. R. H. Gibbs, Mrs. Iris Eustis and Miss Diane Traynor.

President-elect Miss Mary McInnes opened the show and expressed appreciation to the many who had assisted with the fashion feature. Monty's Flower Shop, K. Bonham's Hat Shop and Knight's Pharmacy. The successful style presentation was conducted by Mrs. Israel's vened by Miss Adelaide Evans.

Mrs. Israel and Miss Lunn wore smart suits in cotton cord when they appeared together on the stage. A black patent front belt provided interest to Mrs. Israel's blue ensemble, while the red one chosen by Miss Lunn featured the new lily-collar setting off a wide neckline. Maureen Darters wore an old rose slim 'fin and bra costume displaying one of the season's favorites for the teenager.

PETER TOMLIN'S SPORTS DIARY

The Belleville McFarlands last night gave Okanagan fans a display of hockey at its worst and absorbed a resounding 6-0 drubbing for their trouble.

McFarlands spent the night hitting the Packers with everything at their disposal. They completely forgot about playing hockey and concentrated on playing the man at all times. They were so busy trying to rough up the Packers that they had no time for hockey. What their purpose was — whether they were trying to hurt the Packers or provoke them into retaliation — is not important. What does matter is that they left an odor in Kelowna Memorial Arena that will linger for some time to come.

It is to the undying credit of the Orchard City crew that, with one exception, they did not retaliate. They started with playing hockey, even though they were provoked beyond the limit of human endurance and were justly rewarded for keeping their heads.

The Kelowna team showed that they are made of pretty stern stuff by remaining calm when it would have been easy to strike back at their antagonists. Kelowna fans can be proud of their boys for conducting themselves like gentlemen instead of becoming embroiled in what could have been a real pier-sixer.

The most regrettable part of the whole affair was that the Packers' roster was further depleted as a result of the mess that should have been a hockey game — at least it was advertised as such. Harry Smith, the only Packer who lost his temper, was lost for most of last night's game and may receive a suspension for swinging his stick at a Belleville player. Andy McCallum was reported to have suffered a broken jaw and Jim Moro and Orv Lavell picked up bad cuts. The loss could hurt Kelowna even though it certainly didn't last night.

If anything, the injuries inspired the Packers to greater heights as they ground the Macs' noses deep into the dirt.

McFarlands got the beating they deserved for staging such a shocking performance. It was a complete reversal of the form they flashed on Monday night in the first game of the series. They played excellent hockey in coasting to a 4-1 win and lived up to the rave notices that preceded their arrival on the scene. Eastern writers were liberal with the superlatives in describing the Macs. On the basis of their showing in the opener, they seemed to be what the scribes said. Last night's exhibition makes us wonder whether they weren't talking about some other team.

Perhaps the Bellevilles will, in the remainder of the series, come back to earth and play hockey. If they do, it could still be a good series. If they don't, the Packers should whale the tar out of them the way they did last night. Unless the Macs quit resorting to brawling tactics, they are going to absorb more shellackings like this one and I, for one, will be glad to see it.

The return of Mike Durban to the Kelowna lineup was, perhaps, the spark that ignited the Packer attack. The lanky veteran, who was feared lost for the series when he received what was at first thought to be a broken hip in Monday's game, returned to action and put the Kelowna attack into high gear.

He set up the first goal, scored the second and was a thorn in Belleville's side all night. Durban came on the ice almost directly from the hospital in a remarkable display of courage and desire to win.

Concern has been expressed in some quarters over the Packers' ability to beat Belleville. They have shown that they have the stuff to go all the way. All we can say is, "Roll, Packers, Roll!"

Roy Hay Chosen to Head Skating Club

The Glenavary Figure Skating Club, at their annual meeting Tuesday night, elected Roy Hay to succeed Harley Andrew as club president.

Other officers are Mrs. Verla MacDonald, secretary; Harley Andrew, treasurer and Ralph Leard, J. Hendry, Mrs. J. D. Southworth, Mrs. J. Johnston, Mrs. R. Flitton and Mrs. H. Laub, directors.

In his report, Ralph Leard, chairman of the ice committee, said that he received good cooperation from the arena manager and his staff and from parents of club members. However, he expressed disappointment with the hours of ice time allotted to the club.

Treasurer's report showed that the club ended the season with a bank balance of $184.86. The ice carnival, which the club staged, realized a profit of over $600 and helped offset operating expenses.

Mrs. H. Laub reported that club skaters did very well during the season. Eight skaters passed the preliminary school figures, four passed bronze school figures, three passed second school figures, thirteen were successful in the preliminary dance test and ten others got partial pass marks in this test.

In addition Jaquie Hay brought further honors to the club and herself when she was successful in the third school figures test. Miss Hay also received a partial pass grade in the difficult bronze dance.

Retiring president Harley Andrew said, in his report, that the club had been very fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Dolores Cassier as club professional. He expressed hope that the club would be able to retain her services for next season.

Mr. Andrew announced that the club has taken over sponsorship of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra concert, which will be held in the arena on May 17.

Thomson Keeps Cubs Atop National League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The charitable Chicago Cubs, giving up runs almost as fast as they scored 'em, still lead the National League today, thanks to Bobby Thomson.

It was Thomson who capped a two-run double that beat Los Angeles Dodgers 7-6 Wednesday night.

Four of the Dodger runs were unearned but the Cubs shrugged it off with three in the ninth off loser Clem Labine. Pinch-hitter Chuck Tanner started it, slicing a home run over the Coliseum's strained screen.

That saved a half-game lead for the Cubs over Cincinnati after the Redlegs had beaten Milwaukee and Lew Budette 2-0 on Bob Purkey's six-hitter. Philadelphia rapped Pittsburgh 8-1, and San Francisco, scoring six in the last two innings, defeated St. Louis 8-7.

Thomson, who doubled off the screen and scored in the first after Lee Walls' homer, also singled and scored in a two-run fourth off Dodger veteran Carl Erskine. Seventh-inning home runs by Peevée Reese and Gil Hodges were the Dodgers' only legit runs among five off young Dick Drott. Don Elston won in relief.

The Redlegs had only five hits off Burdette and reliever Gene Conley. But they clumped Pur-key's double, an infield single, an infield out and Frank Robinson's single for the runs in the sixth.

Jack Sanford threw a seven-hitter and singled home two Philadelphia runs. Rip Repulski hit the Phils' first 1958 home run, with a man on, Pittsburgh rookie Ron Blackburn was the loser.

Rookie Orlando Cepeda, 3-for-5, and Daryl Spencer, 4-for-5, had a hand in just about all of the Giant scoring. Spencer rammed a two-out, two-run homer that capped a four-run ninth triggered by Cepeda's two-run triple. Rookie Phil Clark was the loser, facing just two men—Cepeda and Spencer. Marv Grissom won in relief.

Edna Almond Tops Five-Pin Bowlers

Edna Almond led the ladies in Mixed Five-Pin Bowling League action at Bowl-a-Mor alleys last night. She rolled a high single game of 328 and had 696 for high three.

Bill Briggs had men's high single with 343 and Cy Lines had a score of 906 for high three.

High team single honors went to Cee Bees for their score of 1241, while Cy's Five took high team three with 3158.

HERB SCORE ROLLING

Foytack Hurls Second Win; Yanks Edged Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fire-balling Paul Foytack and Detroit Tigers are making liars out of those exhibition game statistics in the American League race.

The Tigers tip-toed back from the southland with a 7-19 loss record, the worst in either league for the grapefruit games, and Foytack looked bad with a 12.06 earned run average.

But now the Tigers are in second place in the early standings, just a game back of New York Yankees. And it was Foytack who put them there Wednesday night, gaining his second victory and second six-hit complete game with an 8-2 decision over Kansas City Athletics. The win gave him a neat 1.00 ERA.

Macs' Rough Play Costs Them Game

Packers Not Impressed By Rugged Belleville Tactics

KELOWNA, B.C.—Belleville McFarlands, Eastern Canada's representatives in the Allan Cup final, are today convinced that crime doesn't pay. Kelowna Packers, Western finalists, scored five times with a Belleville player in the penalty box and skated to an easy 6-0 victory.

Belleville at no time resembled the team that scored a convincing 4-1 win over Kelowna in the series opener Monday night. The best-of-seven series is now tied 1-1.

Belleville collected 12 minors, a major and a misconduct. The misconduct went to playing coach Ike Hildebrand, and the major to Minnie Menard. The Packers lost the services of Harry Smith through game misconduct after he slashed Bart Bradley in the first period. Otherwise they were assessed only two minors.

Packers flashed the form which won them the Okanagan Senior championship and carried them past Rossland Warriors in the finals and the Winnipeg Maroons in the Western Canada series.

Bugs Jones opened the scoring for Kelowna while Belleville playing coach Ike Hildebrand was serving a penalty in the first period. The clubs battled through a scoreless middle session and Kelowna wrapped things up in the finale with a five goal outburst.

Mike Durban, who was injured in Monday's game and was not expected to play, spearheaded the Packer attack. He did the leg work for the first goal and received credit for the second. Durban's long shot went into the net off the stick of a Belleville defenseman.

Indians Put Lemon On Disabled List

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians asked the American League Wednesday that pitcher Bob Lemon be put on the disabled list.

The 37-year-old pitcher had an operation last fall for the removal of bone chips from his elbow. He started a game Tuesday at Kansas City but was charged with two runs and five hits before he departed without getting anyone out in the second.

If he goes on the disabled list, he could not be used for at least 30 days.

HOCKEY MEETING SET FOR MAY 2

Oops! We fouled one off. We reported yesterday that the Penticton Hockey Club's general meeting would be held Friday, April 25.

In reality, it will be held a week from Friday, May 2, in the Alexander Room of the Canadian Legion at 7:30 p.m.

OF THE BIBLE AND ONE MAN.

Have you heard...

Of the famous Breaches Bible, the Murderer's Bible, the Wicked Bible or the Vinegar Bible?

These Bibles are practically priceless, simply because of the error each contains.

The Breaches Bible was translated to read "Adam and Eve made themselves breeches". This breach made the Bible worthless, from a clerical standpoint, but the collectors made capital of the few available copies and the combined publicity and scarcity makes them highly prized.

The Vinegar Bible used the words "parable of the vinegar", instead of "Vineyard". Maybe the printer thus inspired made one trip too many to the wine cellar.

The Wicked Bible—the negative, was omitted from the Seventh Commandment.

The printer, we believe, was quite right in contending that this was not an attempt to justify a regrettable error in his past.

But the biggest "boner" about Bibles was made by Voltaire who said that in 100 years the book found only in museums. Bible would be a forgotten When the 100 years were up Voltaire's home was occupied by the Geneva Bible Society.

We do not want to preach but there are never any errors in Towne Hall Clothes. Here at Len Hill Men's Wear Limited we have a nice selection of the season's most wanted styles.

European Davis Cup Play Saturday

LONDON (AP)—The European matches will be Luxembourg zone of the Davis Cup—tattling against Finland in Luxembourg remains of what was once the centre ring of international tennis—opens shop this week with little hope for success.

The calibre of play in Europe improves a little each year. But there are no indications that Australian and American domination of the last 21 years will be disturbed this season.

First-round matches will be played this weekend between 16 teams representing the weaker tennis nations of Europe.

The second round, to be played by May 20, brings into play the principal tennis countries of Europe, including Britain, Sweden, France, Italy and Belgium.

Third-round matches must be completed by June 10 and the European semi-finals by July 22. The zone winner will be determined before Aug. 5 with inter-zone matches in Australia next December just before the challenge round.

THREE OUT OF ZONE
Three of the best European zone teams are not European. They are India, Brazil and Chile who elected to compete in the European zone because their players already were in Europe for tournaments — and because the competition here is not as rough.

India meets Monaco in the three-day round beginning Saturday at Monte Carlo with India favored. Brazil's four-man team meets Hungary starting Friday on the courts of Margit Island in the Danube River and the South Americans should win.

The relative strengths of Czech and Yugoslav players is little known. The two teams meet April 25, 27 in Zagreb.

Switzerland meets Austria in Bern with the Austrians slightly favored. Other first-round

Vancouver Grabs Series Lead With Narrow Win

Craft Happy With Athletics' Early Spurt

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry Craft said Wednesday he's downright happy with the bustling start of his Kansas City Athletics in the American League. But, he insists, the A's are living only for the next game, not looking into the future.

He said he didn't consider the present spurge a "honeymoon" but admitted the team is having quite a time.

It's the fastest season start since the Athletics moved here from Philadelphia in 1955.

"I can't name a single player," Craft said. "Watch 'em on the field and you'll see the closest thing to the old college spirit you ever saw."

The pitching, the hitting, the team speed and style are vastly improved over a year ago.

Old pro Ned Garver has a 2.54 earned run average while going 15½ innings in winning his two starts. Jack Urban and Ralph Terry head the youth side of the pitching staff.

Tremendous jobs defensively by outfielders Bill Tuttle and Woody Held and heavy stickwork by Tuttle and Bob Cerv have given the A's one of the most effective outfields in the league.

Tuttle, with Detroit last season, is hitting .417. Cerv, a onetime Yankee, has driven in 14 runs while hitting at .407. He's hit four home runs.

LONG RUN

Yugoslav star Franjo Mihalic, 36, is greeted at the finish line after winning the 62nd annual Boston Athletic Association marathon. Mihalic, first Iron Curtain runner ever to enter the marathon, was timed in 2 hours, 25 minutes, 54 seconds for the 26-mile, 38-yard grind from Hopkinton to Boston. Johnny Kelley, 27, of Groton, Conn., who holds the record of 2:20.5 set last year, when he became the first American to win the classic in a dozen years, finished second with a time of 2:30.51.

Comiskey Wins Court Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Comiskey has won a court battle over Chicago White Sox stock.

Judge Robert J. Dunne of Probate Court Wednesday ruled that the Sox vice-president be granted the 1,041 shares of stock left him by his mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey.

The ruling in effect blocked his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, from taking control of the board of four directors. With 49 per cent of the stock, Chuck can put two members of his choice on the board and state-mate his sister, who will have a similar number.

Attorney Bartlett Marimon, representing Mrs. Rigney, said the ruling will be appealed.

The mother left Mrs. Rigney an extra 500 shares, giving her 51 per cent and control of the corporation.

Mrs. Rigney, who is secretary-treasurer of the American League club, had offered Monday to make her 32-year-old brother club president if he would withdraw various court actions he had under way.

Pancho Has Edge

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Pancho Gonzales defeated Lew Hoad of Australia 2-6, 6-4 Wednesday night. Gonzales now leads in the cross-country tennis duel with Hoad 35 to 29.

Marie Curie who, with her husband, Pierre, discovered radium in 1898 once made the remark: "Nothing is to be feared. It is only to be understood."

VANCOUVER (CP)—Art Chapman, coach of Vancouver Canucks, was willing to concede a little either way Wednesday night after his team staged a third-period rally to win the first game of the Western Hockey League final.

Vancouver was a "little slow starting" on the road to its 4-2 victory over Calgary Stampede in the opener of the best-of-seven series, Chapman said in the Canucks dressing-room.

"We haven't played for a week and we were not as sharp as we will be," he added, warming up. Then he hedged a bit: "But then, maybe the train ride didn't help the Stamps either."

DISPUTES GOAL

Calgary coach Gus Kyle, across the Forum in the Stampede dressing-room, was also thinking about the train ride. The visitors arrived here early Wednesday.

"Our boys were just a little tired from the train ride," Kyle said. "It was that first off-side goal that beat us. Some of the boys think it was 10 feet off-side."

The reference was apparently to Elliott Chorley's goal for the Canucks in the second period while the Stampede players were short-handed. Chorley's shot on passes from Red Johansen and Bill Dobbins, came from the vicinity of the blue line.

The Stampede had taken a 2-0 first-period lead and Chorley started the ball rolling on four unanswered Vancouver tallies.

Jackie McLeod scored two of them and Brent MacNab got the other. For Calgary, the goals came from Murray Wilkie and Fred Huel.

The second game of the series will be played here Friday night.

RINK-LENGTH CHARGE

Former NHL goalie Al Rollins was kept busy in the Calgary net stopping 24 shots. Marcel Pelletier handled 19 at the other end of the rink.

Snider Hurts Arm, Gets Reprimand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Duke Snider, the Los Angeles Dodgers' home run champion and highest priced performer at $42,500 a year, was taken off the payroll Wednesday night because he hurt his arm throwing a baseball over the 106-foot-high Memorial Coliseum rim.

Snider, who has been hobbling all spring after an operation to remove cartilage and a bone chip in his knee, suffered the arm injury during a bit of horseplay before the warup for the game with Chicago Cubs. His elbow was badly strained.

Manager Walt Alston was so incensed he announced Duke would be docked until he could get back into the lineup.

This disciplinary action infuriated Duke.

"Why I've been throwing balls out of National League parks ever since I came into the league," he told newsmen. "Tonight, everyone stood around watching Don Zimmer and I try to throw the ball over the rim. Nobody said anything about quitting at any time. Tonight I hurt my arm and suddenly it's all wrong."

Alston had to put Junior Gilliam, who was hitting only .188, into the left field slot.

Zimmer wasn't reprimanded. Alston explained "Zimmer wasn't hurt. He could play if we needed him."

Wilkie got things moving at 3:12 of the first period, shooting a loose puck past Pelletier. Huel's blue-line shot in the same period from just inside the blue line made it 2-0. Chorley's goal at 10:26 of the second was followed by McLeod's first, on a pass from Red Johansen from six feet out after a rink-length charge by the two.

Phil Maloney, leading Vancouver point-getter in preliminary playoffs, got an assist on MacNab's goal at 13:26 of the third frame. He grabbed the puck and turned it over to MacNab who cleared it past Rollins.

McLeod's second goal was so much icing on the cake. He took the puck from Huel and beat Rollins cleanly with less than two minutes to go.

Tournament of Champions In Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Select was the word today for the 22 golfers who set forth in the sixth annual $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Playing the perfectly-groomed sixth annual $40,000 Tournament Desert Inn Country Club's 7,048-yard course, an expanse of green dotting the desert, the first two some was to tee off at 2 p.m. MST.

Young Ken Venturi of San Francisco is the betting favorite in this resort where betting is legal.

Venturi is listed at 5-1. At 8-1 were Gene Littler, Billy Casper, Doug Ford and the recent Masters winner, Arnold Palmer.

National Open champion Dick Mayer is no better than 15-1.

The ever popular Jimmy Demaret is 10-1, with Roberto de Vicenzo, Billy Maxwell, Tommy Bolt Vancouver's Stan Leonard and National PGA champion Lionel Hebert 12-1.

Leonard's only big win in medal play on the pro circuit was in the 1957 Greensboro Open. He has won the Canadian PGA title several times.

To qualify for his tournament, a player must win in the preceding year a PGA-sanctioned 72-hole open tournament.

Huge Trout Caught—May Be Record

NEW YORK (CP) — A brown trout weighing 26 pounds 2 ounces, caught four days ago by George Langston on an eight-pound test line at Dale Hollow, Tenn., may be a North American record for that fish.

Field and Stream magazine said that if Langston's specifications are certified, the fish will be the largest brown trout caught in North America since 1911, the year the magazine started keeping detailed records.

And Field and Stream added, there is no evidence of a larger brown trout having been caught in the United States or Canada before that date.

The world record is 39 pounds 8 ounces, caught in 1866 in Scotland.

Langston landed his fish after a 25-minute struggle. He used a spinning outfit with a spinner and a doll fly as bait.

The fish was 34½ inches long and 23½ inches in girth.

Field and Stream said the largest brown trout caught in North America previously was a 24-pounder landed in California in 1945 by Dave Hanny.

SWEET TASTE OF VICTORY

Rocket Richard, better known for his scoring sprees than his smiling outbursts, comes up with a big grin as he sips orange juice from the Stanley Cup, captured by his Canadiens for the third straight year. The Montrealers had no champagne on hand for the victory celebrations in Boston. They didn't want to tempt fate, or the Bruins by making any presumptuous pre-game arrangements. Their caution was almost called for as the never-say-die Bruins battled to within one goal of forcing another overtime session. For the Rocket it was the sixth time he had enjoyed a Stanley Cup triumph.

ALL-STAR GAME

East-West Rugger Match Goes May 3

TORONTO (CP) — East-West football rivalry will be renewed here May 3 when a British Columbia all-star team meets the pick of Eastern Canada in English rugger.

The west coast squad leaves Vancouver next week. The East-West contest in suburban East York Stadium will be the first of four games for the B.C. tourists and the first East-West rugger match to be played in Canada.

Two Western Interprovincial Football Union players will be in the B.C. lineup. They are Ted Hunt, 24-year-old stand-off half from Vancouver, who last year was named rookie of the year with his fullback play for B.C. Lions, and wing forward Greg Bjarnason of the Calgary Stampede.

The B.C. all-stars play Ontario in Toronto May 6, Quebec in Montreal May 10 and Princeton University in Princeton, N.J., May 12.

The B.C. team is almost identical to the one which upset the touring Australian Wallabies 11-8 a month ago. The Aussies won the second match 17-14.

West lineup for the May 3 Saturday afternoon game: fullback,

Neal Henderson; wingers, Russ Henschel, George Pull; centres, George Sainas, Ray Calton; stand-off, Ted Hunt; scrum-half, Norm Blake; prop forwards, Pete Grantham, Buss Moore.

Capt.; hooker, Tom Christie; wing forwards, Jack Whitty, Greg Bjarnason; lock forward, David Bruce-Thomas.

Other members of the touring team are Brian Harrison, Danny Oliver, Peter Clark and Peter von Harten. Bob Spray, president of the B.C. Rugger Union, and coach Ken Banks will be along.

Clark and Calton are from Victoria. The remainder of the team are from Vancouver.

Plans New Movement Grouped Around CCF

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WINNIPEG (CP)—A shined-up CCF party, with a political face-lifting and with stronger financial and moral backing from labor, may emerge from the Canadian Labor Congress convention here.

In voting to set up a new "movement" grouped around the election-shattered socialist party, congress delegates heard the move described Wednesday as the birth of a "people's" political instrument and a resurgence of labor political strength.

But in essence it appeared today to be that some time in the next two years the 1,000,000-member congress will be throwing support behind a regrouping of left-wing elements of the type that the CCF has been trying to bring under its wing for years.

However the move pans out, one insider said, it will still be the CCF, whether or not it is unified that name.

"Don't make the mistake of thinking this is going to be a Labor party," he advised. Major effect of the step appeared to be that the "movement" action enabled those in the CCF favoring direct political action to bring in a large element in the congress previously committed to political neutrality.

Up to now, the congress in its two-year life has not participated directly in politics, though its semi-neutral policy has leaned in the direction of the CCF.

This has been a compromise between the elements from which it was formed in 1956—the strongly pro-CCF Canadian Congress of Labor and the strictly neutral Trades and Labor Congress.

At all events, the new "movement" will not get into being until the congress next meets in convention two years from now. Nor was any program or policy laid out for it Wednesday.

Instructions to the CCF executive were to get into discussions as promptly as possible with various groups—specifically the CCF—with a view to drafting up the shape of the movement. But firm action was left over for the 1960 convention.

The resolution establishing the movement suggested that there might be "financing and choice of candidates for public office." Such financing would have to come through a vote of the next convention's delegates.

In outlining the type of supporters the "movement" should go after, the resolution mentioned labor, farmers, professional labor, farmers, professional people and "other liberal-minded persons."

These are exactly the groups whose support the CCF has sought for years.

Studios Create Stars for TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie business continues to give aid and comfort to the enemy. Everyone in the film business admits television is the element that triggered the movie depression. Yet movies performed their own version of hark-back by selling their immense libraries for use on TV.

Now the studios are doing TV another favor by building up stars for TV to cash in with.

Case in point: Jeff Richards, who Friday night starts a new NBC series called "Jefferson Drum."

TV can thank MGM for creating its new star. For six years Jeff was under contract to the studio. Many predicted he would become a top attraction, but he never really got the chance.

DID 28 MOVIES
"I did 28 pictures there, including the bits and walk-ons at the beginning of my career," he said. "But I sat for a whole year between doing A Dog's Life and The Opposite Sex. Then I waited 10 months before they gave me Don't Go Near the Water."

He had the thankless role of the stuck-up officer in the latter comedy.
"After the picture, I started to wait again," he recalled. "They told me the same thing they did after The Opposite Sex—that they wanted to wait until the picture got out and see what the reaction is."

TO HECK WITH THAT
"I said to heck with that. I couldn't stand waiting around again. When an actor stays idle that long he begins to get all kinds of doubts and complexes about himself. I said I wanted out. I got out, too—after paying $4,400 of my salary back to them for the time I wasn't working."

After he won his freedom Jeff was offered several TV series. But he held off, figuring he'd see how the picture business was.

Business was bad. Jeff got worried and wondered if he had done the right thing in leaving MGM. But then he got a couple of pictures, signed a two-picture-a-year deal for five years with Alan Ladd's Jaguar Productions, and made the Jefferson Drum deal.

The handsome, black-haired giant now is earning thrice his old MGM salary in films, twice that amount in TV, plus a percentage of the profits. MGM still holds him to three films in the future, but the studio could have had him exclusively.

Opening lead—four of spades. One of the neatest forms of an "ace" is the one known as the "ace" loser. The play becomes a bit when declarer, who has tricks to lose, is able to find a way of telescoping the two losers into one.

The final contract turned out to be a poor one, though it can be said in extenuation that the A-K of clubs facing a void was an unfortunate duplication of values.

A spade was opened, and when East played the ten, the indications were strong that West had unopened a singleton. Declarer won with the ace and noted there were two spade losers, which meant the contract would be defeated unless one of them could be salvaged. The only information available at this point was that West had bid a heart and probably had opened a singleton spade. Starting with this as a base, South embarked on a course of play designed to make the contract if it could be done.

He first played a heart to the ace and ruffed a heart. Then, after cashing the ace and king of diamonds, he ruffed another heart.

The A-K of clubs were played next, two spades being discarded from dummy. Now a club was ruffed.

The eight of hearts was then led from dummy, and when East showed out, South discarded one of his two spade losers. West won, of course, but had to return a heart or a club. This permitted declarer to ruff in dummy as the other spade loser was discarded. So the slam was made.

The end result was due to careful planning. The discard of the loser on the loser had to be timed so that the North and South hands had no hearts or clubs left after the eight of hearts was led.

Declarer followed the only feasible line of play to avoid what appeared at first to be sure defeat. The heart trick he lost unnecessarily proved to be a good with the ace and noted there were two spade losers, which meant

Calls for More Nuclear Research

VANCOUVER (CP) — William J. Bennett, who steps down April 30 as head of Canada's atomic energy program, Wednesday urged that the government continue to place emphasis on fundamental and applied nuclear research.

Mr. Bennett, president of the Crown-owned Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, said in a speech here that Canada enjoys an advanced position in the science of atomic energy because of the emphasis placed on these two research fields since the start of the Chalk River, Ont., nuclear project in 1945.

"This emphasis must continue if Canada is to maintain her position and is to play an appropriate part in any program for increasing co-operation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy among the countries of the free world," he told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

"In a science that is moving and changing as rapidly as this one, there can be no static position," he said.

LAY APPEARANCE

Mr. Bennett, appointed to his present position by the former Liberal government, is leaving government service to enter private business. He said his speech to the institute was his last public appearance as president of Atomic Energy of Canada.

In a review of Canada's 13-year atomic program, Mr. Bennett said if Canadian manufacturers are to be in a position to produce power reactors for the Canadian market and export by the mid-1960s they must have early experience in design, development engineering and fabrication.

SEAPORT CITIES HEAD FOR BOTTOM OF SEA?

That seaports like Halifax, Vancouver, New York and London may be headed for the bottom of the sea is the prediction of Dr. Harry Wexler, director of research for the U.S. weather bureau. He said that in time to come, centuries hence, that is, the world's oceans will rise about 240 feet because of melting ice at the polar regions. This photo diagram shows how New York with its towering skyscrapers would look if the fish took over. Only the highest buildings would be visible to the birds.

Mining Men Hope for Economic Conference

By H. L. JONES

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian mining men are hopeful the federal government will move soon on suggestions that the United States and Canada iron out their economic differences with a full-dress conference.

V. C. Wansborough of Toronto, vice-president of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, put forward that thought Wednesday at a press conference between concluding sessions of the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

He said mining men favor the idea suggested by Walter Gordon of Toronto in a convention speech that Canada and the U.S. should negotiate their mutual differences on tariffs, downstream benefits on international rivers and import and export of oil, gas and electrical energy.

SUGGESTED TO J.M.

Mr. Wansborough said the CMMA had recently sent a memorandum to Ottawa suggesting the same thing. He believed the Diefenbaker government was sympathetic to the idea and he would be "most surprised if we don't see steps along those lines very soon."

He and other mining executives at the press conference admitted Canadian mining is disturbed about expected imposition of U.S. quotas on lead and zinc and re-imposition of a duty on copper. Dr. R. A. Bryce of Toronto, president of Macassa Mines Limited, said the whole thing is so wrapped in politics that "it is hard to know who to talk to in Washington."

The three-day convention was the biggest ever held by the institute.

The 1,200 delegates heard reports on the position of Canada's oil, coal and uranium industries, reports that forecast for the most part an uncertain present but a bright future if all goes well.

SUGGESTS QUOTAS

R. A. Brown, Jr., of Calgary, president of Home Oil Company, told delegates the industry could be revitalized if internationally-controlled Montreal refineries that now import crude oil would take Western Canadian crude. If they would not he suggested Canada impose an oil import quota system like the U.S. pipeline from the West to the and build a large-diameter oil

Montreal area.

Marshall M. Williams, assistant to the general manager of the Calgary Power Company, foresaw coal coming back into its own as a low-cost fuel for thermal plants and industry as oil and gas prices continue to rise.

There also was the future possibility of a coal-based chemical industry. But for the present things were not too bright.

R. E. Barret, manager of procurement for the government's uranium-handling agency, Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, said uranium would come into big demand as a fuel late in the 1960's or early 1970's with installation of nuclear power plants in various countries. But before when present military demand fell off or ceased, there could be an oversupply slump period. No one quite knew.

W. J. Bennett, retiring chief of Canada's atomic energy program, said in a major convention speech at Wednesday's closing luncheon that this country, with its vast storehouse of the fissionable material, should continue to concentrate on nuclear power research and ways to fabricate acceptable, economic power reactors for sale around the world.

CREATE MARKET

In this way, he suggested, Canada could help create a market for its vast uranium resources.

He disclosed that this country, in its joint program with Britain and the United States, already has "broken new and important ground in fuel element design and performance."

Canada already could market finished fuel elements and such an order now was under negotiation with Reactor Limited of Switzerland.

Mr. Bennett, who leaves his post as president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited to go into private business April 30, said Chalk River's famed NRX reactor had engaged in fuel element test work for the U.S. submarine Nautilus, first in a line of U.S. atomic subs.

One of the convention's final technical sessions heard Dr. H. V. Warren of the University of British Columbia, explain the science of biogeochemistry as it is applied in the search for minerals. He said the method by which analysis of bushes and trees shows traces of the minerals in the ground beneath them, is finding increasing favor in Russia and Scandinavia.

Dr. Warren said since the tracer elements found from such analysis also is of interest to health, agriculture and forestry agencies, these agencies might usefully co-operate with the mining industry in some phases of geochemical research.

MICHENER IN LONDON

LONDON (CP)—Roland Michener, Speaker of Canada's House of Commons, was guest of honor Wednesday at a luncheon given in the British House of Commons by the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association.

An organization patterned after either the International Monetary Fund or the World Bank could develop "into a most important means of expanding Commonwealth trade, and also trade between Commonwealth countries and the other parts of the world."

Reds Reject Proposal For New Arms Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (CP)—Nikita Khrushchev has rejected a proposal from President Eisenhower to start new disarmament negotiations by opening East-West talks on arms control measures. The rejection, in a letter from the Soviet premier to Eisenhower made public Wednesday night, is the latest in a series of Russian moves which have raised grave doubt here as to whether Moscow is prepared to enter any serious negotiations with the West on terms it does not dictate.

To explore Soviet intentions further on this point, the United States, Britain and France have decided to urge Russia to agree promptly to joint diplomatic talks in Moscow on summit conference arrangements and issues. Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko had proposed that he talk separately with each of the three Western ambassadors.

NOT SERIOUS

Western officials assailed the Gromyko proposal as awkward and time-consuming, and authorities here said that it was clearly designed to divide and confuse the Western allies. They argued that joint talks are reasonable and that Gromyko will agree to them if Russia is serious about arranging a summit conference.

The state department said Khrushchev's letter "rejects the main point of the president's letter of April 8" in which Eisenhower had urged that Russia agree to technical disarmament studies covering control measures for both nuclear and conventional armaments.

Russia announced about a month ago that it was suspending nuclear weapons tests, and Khrushchev sent official notice to Eisenhower April 4, asking the U.S. to follow suit. He reserved Russia's right to resume testing unless other powers agreed to go along.

REDS BACKING OUT?

The new Khrushchev letter was seen here as designed to pave the way for calling off the Russian test suspension at some future time and putting the whole blame on Britain and the U.S. The Russian knew when they first announced the suspension that the U.S. planned a test series in the Pacific this spring and summer.

As far as Russia's basic attitude toward serious negotiations with the West is concerned, U.S. officials were first upset last week by Gromyko's proposal to deal separately with the Western envoys on summit issues. They were further surprised soon afterward by Russia's blast at American bomber operations in the far north—about which the Russians had known for a long time. The conclusion was that the Moscow government had some special reason for making the attack at this time. The Russians have not said what their purpose was, but many U.S. officials found in the action itself evidence that they may be backing away from their demands for a hurry-up summit conference.

Labor Body Backs Nuclear Test Ban

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian Labor Congress Wednesday night adopted a foreign policy statement calling for a ban on atomic and H-bombs under international control and disarmament in the conventional weapons field.

The statement urged the Canadian government to take immediate measures, preferably through the United Nations, towards fruitful negotiations between major powers towards these objectives:

1. An effective ban on the testing and production of thermonuclear weapons and the eventual destruction of existing stockpiles.

2. Effective international control and inspection to implement this policy.

3. An international agreement on regulation and control of "outer space travel."

4. Disarmament in the field of conventional weapons.

"Pending effective agreement on disarmament," the resolution stated, "the congress urges the Canadian government to continue its policy of strengthening our defensive shield against aggression, to support NATO and other regional defence organizations and the continuous efforts of the United Nations to preserve peace."

"Defence and disarmament negotiations must go hand-in-hand. Neither can safely be sacrificed in favor of the other."

The foreign policy statement also said Canada should spend at least $200,000,000 a year in contributions to the Colombo plan, the UN technical assistance program and other economic development programs for underdeveloped nations.

Queen Elizabeth Will Not Attend Royal Performance

LONDON (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth's decision to break a 12-year tradition by avoiding this year's royal film performance brought dismay Wednesday to the British film industry.

The yearly performance has yielded about £200,000 for the industry's benevolent fund since 1946 and given valuable publicity to the industry, stars and films selected.

"Her Majesty wishes to increase the scope of her engagements at charity performances to cover the widest possible field, and does not really want to be tied to going to one particular engagement every year," a Buckingham Palace spokesman said.

The Queen and Prince Philip may be represented by other members of the Royal Family at this year's performance. Neither a film nor a time has yet been decided.

The Daily Mail says her decision has caused conscience searching in the film industry because some of the "distinction" has disappeared from what was designed as the British film industry's most gala occasion.

Almost every year since 1946 there has been a row over the choice of the royal film.

Tunisian Gov't Drops Charges Against France

TUNIS (Reuters) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba today announced he has dropped a plan to renew Tunisian charges against France in the United Nations Security Council.

A week ago Bourguiba said he would wait a week for France to form a new government before he renewed a charge to the Security Council of French "aggression."

Tunisia made the charge after French planes bombed the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef Feb. 8. France counter-charged that the village of the border of Algeria was giving aid to Algerian nationalists at war with French forces.

ASK MORE JAPANESE

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — The London, Ont., conference branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church Wednesday resolved to appeal to the federal government to review immigration laws to allow more Japanese — particularly artists, professionals and students — to enter Canada. The branch said a change in laws should be made to bring the quota for Japanese to a figure comparable to other nationalities.
